Parties and Issues briefly Stated.

The platform and foundation of the slave power to extend slavery into the territories, is now less than although the present struggle is no new thing, although the present struggle is more marked, and therefore the better observed by the whole people. That some purpose and determinate object is aimed at and less observed, has, in the past found convenient to draw its resources mainly the corrupt, the weak minded, of the chosen representatives of the people, in the councils of the general government. In its late strides at one crowd in the organization of the Democratic party was called, and has a candidate who pledges himself to go into who e figure of the Cincinnati platform, framed with special reference to the idea of extending slavery in the territories. Take a seat of the Missouri Compromise and the combinations which it created in the commons nation and among the leading men who support it, together with the melting down of all parties in the South into a unit for the extension of slavery, brought a pressure upon the democratic party in the National Convention which it did not dare to resist. Had the democratic party North manfully resisted the doctrine of the extension of slavery, they knew that the delegations from several of the Southern States would have withdrawn from the Convention, because they were instructed so to do by their constituents at home.

The pressure of the slavery power has extended itself by crushing out, first and foremost, the members from every slaveholder and from the white residents of the slave States. It has muzzled members of Congress from the free States; and brought them to reveal the time-honored and sacred compact in fitting slavery North of 36 degrees 30 minutes; it has taken captive the democratic party; and now it comes before the country, demanding as concession to put similar slavery and to give it free scope in the territories.

The democratic has broken into fragments politically, arises at the North, and has compelled the people of the free states, as a measure of self-defence, to organize the Republican party to resist the extension of slavery. The doctrine and purpose of the Republican party is precisely this, fairly and plainly spoken:—

"We think with Washington, Jefferson, Madison, and Monroe, in regard to the institution of Slavery and do not desire its extension into territory now free and, therefore, we invite all who think with us, to unite in resisting this sectional institution to or wed the institution through the direct legislation of Congress. We give notice, however, that war only against Slavery extension, and not against Slavery where it constitutionally exists, and whenever we have succeeded in confining it within the limits beyond which our fathers forever prohibited its extension we shall, as heretofore, defend the Slave States in the quiet enjoyment of every right and privilege guaranteed to them by the Constitution; and hold as an enemy to the peace and prosperity of the whole country, whoever attempts to interfere with the right of every State to regulate its internal affairs, without hindrance or molestation of any kind from the general government or the people of other States."

The parties and the issues are on one side the slaveholders with those they succeed in forcing by their pressure to go for the extension of slavery—and on the other hand the freemen of the country, acting together to resist the aggressions of slavery and to protect and defend the Constitution and the rights of all the people of all the States and territories.

The first party and its tie, patriot sectional and not national, and the effort is to make them national only by making slavery national. This is the only way in which they can be national and the only way proposed, and the engineers in this aggrandizement of slavery openly proclaim that if their wishes are not acceded to here will rend this Union in twain. It is an idle threat. They can do much thing nor will they attempt it. Their threats only prove how deeply and emphatically sections they are in their purposes.

The second party named, the Republican party and name, are national in their objects of preserving freedom, and the rights of the people of all the States, and the Constitution and its guarantees and these embodiments under that Constitution.

Yet the question base enough in the Free States, like Judas in betraying his master for thirty pieces of silver, to represent that all who are free from the pressure of the slave power, are sectional. Who began this struggle, who struck the first blow, who have attempted to overthrow existing compacts and subvert the government—who have overrun Kansas and beaten down freemen there, who are their apologists and defenders—who have resorted to the bowie-knife, the rifle and the pistol perhaps even? The slaveholders and their allies the northern bullies and tools, who now array themselves against the Republican party. Who is to blame for this? The party South and their northern allies and sentiments in the free States?

The Republicans of these two great parties are forced from the country, BUCHANAN AND FREMONT. These infamy of slavery extension and the degradation of our territories to slavery, the giving up of all the vital forces and activities of our national government and even our national character and reputation to slavery, should be the means to elect Buchanan.

But every friend of our country of every friend of the Constitution, and the glorious liberty and union which it was framed to secure, every friend of free labor and the rights of man, every friend of progress, of education, of civilization and the elevation of mankind should vote for John C. Fremont, who will give us measures will make like a wall of fire across the path of those who would extend slavery over our territories. Happy provision has been written upon the hearts of the people of the Free States in letters of living light, it is that the opportunity of freedom is the great mission and purpose of our glorious union.

Splendid Republican Flag

The Republicans of Bangor have procured a large, elegant, and appropriately painted and decorated National Flag, bearing the names of Fremont and Dayton and Hannibal Hamlin, which will be thrown to the breeze in West Market Square, on Wednesday evening next.—It will be the largest, richest and most elegant flag ever thrown out in Maine. It is over forty feet long and over thirty feet wide, and the painting are done by a person who well knows his trade.

A meeting will follow, if the weather is pleasant, in West Market Square; if not, the City Hall will be used. The meeting will be addressed by Hon. A. M. Pattangall, lately from Kansas, and probably by Hon. P. O. J. Smith, of Portland, and by several other speakers of ability.

The flag will be thrown out at half past seven o'clock, and it will be well worth seeing.

It is expected that there will be quite a number present from neighboring towns to join in the good time.

California or Fremont. The Last hope of the Border Ruffians gone.

Upon the reception of the news of COL. FREMONT'S nomination as California, a large and enthusiastic ratification meeting was held in San Francisco, Two of the principal speakers were of character and influence, were, original Democrats on which the party was national, JUDGE E. D. TRACY was from NEW YORK; and JOSEPH A. NUNES, ESQ. the other speaker, was from PENNSYLVANIA. They show that the best element of California, the Democracy, and the whole Union require the election of JOHN CHARLES FREMONT. The Pacific Railroad is ignored by the pro-slavery party. The Californians expect their friends, and brothers and friends in the East to save them a safe and convenient communication by railroad with the rest of the Union.

Tacking it was game.—The Lady Franklin, of Bangor, sailing said favorably at owl, at one of the Warren trotters of the State, is matched with the Lady Ann, of Portland, for $200 a side. To come off Tuesday, Aug. 19th at 3 o'clock, P. M. This ought to produce more excitement and the greatest contest that has come off since the matches with the Drew Morgan. Although the odd or two races have not been what the proprietors of the track intended they should be, yet this must be worth the attention of the curious.

One of the agricultural papers has a picture of a milking machine, and suggests an improvement, namely:

"That attachment of the milk pail to be operated by the milk itself, through a way as to discourage sweet nobody fur by the cat slavery of the milk. For example the connection to the change of milk, and even hooper are said to lend a willing ear. Under the determining influence of milk our may supposed to stand perfectly still, while the pail beginning to fill, will lean forward with joy.

Who Killed the Whig Party? Something for Fillmore Whigs.

We have heard "Straight Whigs" accuse the Republicans of having killed the Whig party, contending that we ought to have adhered to that organization. Those who have even cherished such notions will do well to remember that Southern Whigs, making the slavery question paramount to all others, first deserted the Whig standard and dissolved the party at the South long before the formation of the Republican party—and they will do well, also, to read the following from Senator Benjamin's speech in this city, as reported in the Argus:—For Argus.

"I say it without fear of contradiction, for I have the record to prove it: the party which, last year, and the year before, called itself, and knew no high party, and the party which, at a later period called itself the American party!—the party which is now nicknamed in Congress, 'the South American party'—that is the party which dominated and governed on the old whig party. (Applause.) Not only he they do it, but they avow it in the face of the country, and glory in their crime. Millard Fillmore, gentlemen, abandoned us. We first delighted to do him honor; we had elevated him to high places in the land; we had delegated him to him the noblest office which God has given to his creatures to bestow upon his fellow-men (applause) and yet he joined the party which boasted that it was built up upon the ruins of the whig party! He spoke of having abandoned our party, because of its new candidature, on the ground that this new party, on which he had turned, was being built up upon the ruins of the party with which he was formerly connected. Now, I say, when the whig party had been killed by these men, and I had to make my choice between three parties, I could not join the party of Millard Fillmore."

Fremont's Reception as Discussed by a Secessionist Editor.

The following is an extract of a letter, dated New York July 10, to the Georgia Telegraph, a Buchanan org n. It was written by its editor:

"But this as it may, however, the current of feeling or mood here is most decided that Fremont will easily, without difficulty, every non-slaveholding State, even Pennsylvania. I have just seen a friend who returned yesterday from the rural districts in Pennsylvania, and he says the drift is all for Fremont as far as he could see in the westward. I hear, too, the indices of the popular feeling are for Fremont. I saw yesterday a Southern friend who has been 15 counting around and Vermont and the strongest Abolition regions of New England—a talking and observing friend, and arrived in the most desirous. He says he found only three Buchanan men in the Fillmore men in those parts. In the city here, which is naturally quite Liberal and coerce coalition opinion, the Free Soil ticket is so far, sales the roost. The most moderate of the late Whig party are going for Fillmore—but the bulk of that party is going for Fremont. The first classification named comprehends all of the more modern, political development of Know Nothingism, which Mr. Fillmore seems likely to get. Buchanan's vote, so far as can be judged, as pointed to the regular Democracy, although the more Free Soilish and fiery portion of the same."

From the State of Maine

Northern vs. Southern Institutions.

A Citizen of Maine, the Washington correspondent of the Boston Daily Advertiser, (no. a Republican paper) under date of August 4th, says:

"Senator Benjamin, of Louisiana, and Howell Cobb, of Georgia, will leave Washington to-morrow, to address a Buchanan meeting in Maine. Thirty thousand dollars (30,000.00) will follow to help the game along in that State."

Now, people of Maine, the only question must we have to those upon the above is, that while those southern gentlemen come among us under the guarantees of freedom of speech backed up by "30,000 to help their cause," it should be remembered by you that your Senators—representatives of the free people of Maine—could not advocate your views upon the question now before the country in any place in the districts of Messrs. Benjamin and Cobb without being able to deal at any time—And remember, too, that the 4th section of the 4th article of the Constitution of the United States reads as follows:—"The citizens of each State shall be entitled to all privileges and immunities of citizens in the several states"—and always has been, from the time under foot by the South, while it has never been violated by the people of the free states.

This Side and That Side.

"After we shall have offered Spain a price for Cuba beyond its present value, and it shall have been refused, it will then be time to consider the question, does Cuba in the possession of Spain seriously endanger our internal peace, and the existence of our cherished Union. Should the question be answered in the affirmative, then by every law, human and divine, we shall be justified in wresting it from Spain if we possess the power."—James Buchanan.

* * * To dwar in the views of this Convention depreciating the foreign policy to which it adheres. The assumption that we have the right to take from another nation its dominions because we want them, is an abandonment of the truest character which our country has acquired. To provoke hostilities by unjust assumptions would be to sacrifice the peace and character of the country, when its interests might be more certainly secured and its objects attained by just and honoring measures, involving no loss of reputation.—International embarrassments are usually the results of a secret diplomacy, which aims to keep from the knowledge of the people the operations of the government. This system is incompatible with the character of our institutions, and is itself yielding gradually to a more enlightened public opinion, and to the power of the press, which, by its broad dissemination of political intelligence, secures to advantage, to the side of justice, the judgements of the civilized world. An honest, firm and open policy in our foreign relations would command the united support of the nation, whose deliberate opinions it would necessarily reflect."—Col. Fremont.

A Plank Stolen.—The Buchanan

press are publishing the Cincinnati platform, minus the following resolution which was unanimously adopted at their Convention:

"Resolved, That the Administration of Franklin Pierce has been true to Democratic principles, and therefore true to the great interests of the country; in the face of the violent opposition, As that opinion needs the sanction of a new election, we proclaim our UNQUALIFIED APPROBATION OF HIS MEASURES AND POLICY."

We know it must be agonizing for a Democrat to be compelled to swallow such a dose, but they must take it or bolt.—Louisville Gazette.

With respect to certain gentlemen of the old Whig party—Messrs. Everett, Winthrop, Lunt, Hillard and others—whose names have been mentioned as among those who were likely to go for Buchanan, we may say that not one of them has any idea of following the lead of Mr. Choate, and we speak from good authority when we say that they regret as much as we do, to see incorporated upon the platform of Mr. Buchanan's nomination, Wyman B. S. Moor's Cauliflower.

The valiant knight of Waterville has been as whist as a whipped spaniel since he was informed that Hon. F. O. J. Smith would take him in hand if he was really 'spoiling for a fight.' Wyman would like very well to intrapt Smith or Hamlin's meetings, but he dreads a rencounter with any one, especially the keen and sarcastic Smith.

Now and Then.

In Mr. Choate's great speech in support of Gen. Taylor made at Salem, in 1848, he said:

"In this matter of slavery, we have always differed from our friends of the South; and in regard to it we propose simply TO VOTE THEM DOWN."

Flag with "33 Stars."

At the Disunion, Border Ruffian Convention in Portland last week, both flags over the speakers' stand had but eighteen stars each. It has been well suggested that this is emblematic of the Southern Republic, with the fifteen slave States, Kansas conquered, Utah with polygamy and slavery, and Cuba annexed. This is known to be a favorite idea with the Southern dominants, but we hardly expect to see it outspoken so far north as Maine. Disunion stinks loathfully forth in the land.—Kennebec Journal.

Luther Severance's opinion of Hannibal Hamlin.

"Disagreeing as we did with Mr. Hamlin on many questions of governmental policy, we put to the very thing in him which this party, of a fusion of it unless, find fault with, viz: his enlightened and unbending fidelity for all principles."—[Luther Severance in 1850.

Choice of Presidential Electors.—A correspondent recently made inquiries as to what States choose their presidential electors by a majority, and how the contest would be modified thereby. After careful inquiry we cannot learn that a majority is required to choose Presidential electors in any State except New Hampshire and South Carolina has devolved the choice of electors upon the Legislature. The remainder of the States elect, we believe, by a plurality. In New Hampshire the Whigs very generally support Fremont, and we cannot learn that there is any intention of putting a ticket in the field.

The Bath Tribune, nominally a straight Whig, but which has all the malignity and mendacity of the most unscrupulous Buchanan organ, has undertaken to give currency to the idea that Senator Sumner is slamming illness for political effect. The Tribune is striving to make capital for Buchanan, though professing a preference for Fillmore. Deceitful as hell, it is prone to expect, applies you others.—Boston Journal.

A day or two ago a man was a rested in Sacramento, charged with assaulting a woman.—After her testimony had been given in court, the counsel for the defence concentrated his energies, and arose and said: "May it please the Court, the hypothesis erected by this woman's self would warrant it is utterly boundless."—The Court immediately convicted the prisoner, and adjourned.

It is a little singular, in the present shape of politics, that this southwest county of Ohio—the one nearest Kansas—should be named Fremont, and the town where the Kansas route crosses into Nebraska Dayton. So the way to Kansas, literally, is through Fremont and Dayton.

Dr. Howe, of the Spirit World recommended a Mrs. Starnes, through a medium—a young lady of 13 summers, to consult Dr. Clark. She did so—and now advises all other ladies to go and do likewise.—Journal.

At the Buchanan "ratification" in Portland last week, Messrs. Deane, Little and Perley, whilom straight whigs, occupied seats of honor among the Democratic "worthies" on the speakers' stand.—Kenn. Journal.

Democrats for Fremont.—Ex-Governor Marcus Morton of Taunton, has declared for Fremont, also, Hon. Henry Williams, of Taunton, formerly a democratic member of Congress from this State.—Telegraph.

The Ruffians of Texas.—A writer thus speaks of the cry ties of Texas:

"The cattle are not the only beasts of the country by any means. Droves of wild horses are not unfrequent, and deer are in countless numbers. The small brown wolf is quite common, and very occasionally get a glimpse of his grey black brother. But Texas is the paradise of reptiles and creeping things. Rattle and moccasin snakes are too numerous even to shake a stick at; the bite of the former is generally cured by drinking raw whiskey till it produces intoxication; but for the latter there is no cure. His constitute is a piteous invitation to get into a quarrel with. He is a specimen with a body about the size of a hen's egg, and as repulsive of six inches long, and covered with long, coarse black hair. He lives in cattle tracks, and if you see him, move out of his path; as his bite is absolutely certain death, and he never gets out of any one's way, but can, in a single minute ten feet to inflict his deadly bite.

Then there is an centipede, fortified with an unlimited number of legs, each leg formed with a claw, and each claw inflicting a separate wound. The walks over you at night, you will have cause to remember him for months to come, as the wound is of a particularly poisonous nature, and is very difficult to heal.—The stinging lizard is a lesser evil, he sensation of its wound being likened to the explosion of a rocket in the person, but one is too thankful to escape with life to consider these lesser evils annoyances. But the insects flying, creeping, running, digging, buzzing, and sting, ing, they are everywhere. Ask for a cup of water, and there the rejoinder in our camp is, "Will you have it with a bug or without?" The horned frog is one of the greatest curiosities, and is perfectly harmless. It has some of the cold slimy qualities of his northern brother, but is frequently made a pet of.—Chameleons are in numerable, darting over the prairie with incomprehensible swiftness, and undergoing their popular change of color of the object under which they may be. The wonders of the ranks of the bayous are perfectly alive with mocking birds, most beautiful, and feathered game is abundant and very fine, and is scarcely ever sought after. The only varieties that I have seen are quail, partridges, snipe mallard, plover and prairie hen."

A CARD.

The officers and members of Eagle Engine Co. No. 3, return their sincere thanks to Mr. Hooper, of the Pagadue House, for the very generous supply of refreshments, furnished us on our late visit to Castine. Also, to the Foreman of Torrent Engine Co., of Bucksport, for the privilege of taking his Engine out and treating her quality, which we found A 1. To the citizens of Bucksport, generally, for their very polite invitation to accept of a collation, which the lateness of the hour forbid our accepting. When the time arrives for our mechanical Excursion, and we embark on board our boat for parts unknown, we shall not pass the beautiful village of Bucksport without having reminded of the many attentions, also of the flattering remarks made by L. Buck, Esq., on our departure for which please accept our warmest thanks. To Capt. Snow, of the Terror, for his polite attentions during the day, he has our best wishes. To the Band, for their determination to please. By order of the Association.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.

Chase submitted a message in answer to the resolution of Inquiry in relation to the removal of Custom House officers in the State of Missouri, Comprising the speech in connection therewith, and the following was ordered, upon motion of Mr. Bell, to be printed:

By the President of the United States.

A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas—While hostilities exist with various Indian tribes on the remote frontiers of the United States, and whilst, in other respects, the public tranquility seriously threatened, Congress has adjourned without granting the necessary supplies for the army, depriving the Executive of the power to perform his duty in relation to the common defence and security; and as such extraordinary occasion has thus arisen for assembling the two Houses of Congress, I do therefore, by this proclamation convene the said Houses to meet at the Capitol in the city of Washington, Thursday the twenty-first of August inst. Hereby the respective Senators and Representatives, they and each of them are to assemble for consultation and determination on such measures as the state of the Union may seem to require.

In testimony whereof I have caused the seal of the United States to be hereto affixed, and signed the same with my hand. Done at the city of Washington, the 18th day of August in the year of our Lord eighteen hundred and fifty-six, and of the Independence of the United States, the eighty-first.

Various Matters.

OTWARD, August 17.

We learn by a telegraphic dispatch that the fine steamer Wallace, belonging to the Port Dalhousie and Hamilton Railway Company, was burned at her dock at Port Dalhousie yesterday afternoon. She was valued at about $50,000 and partly insured. The railroad wharf, a long and costly structure, was also on fire.

NEW YORK, August 18.

The U. S. steamer Harney, from Key West, arrived last night, and this morning landed at Governor's Island 6 sick and disabled soldiers.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.

Messrs. Hendricks and Granger of Senate and Clemens of the House, while riding to the Capitol this morning in an omnibus, got into a dispute about politics, when Mr. McMullen struck Mr. Clemens a severe blow on the face. The parties had clinched, but were separated by the other passengers before further damage ensued.

NEW YORK, 18th,

Brig Mary C. Haskell arrived here to-day from Cienfuegos, she lost the following men by fever: Stephen Jellerson, Alpheus Hall and James Callaghan, seamen—Gilbert Ellsworth.
